Central Industrial

A MEMBER OF THE  TSUBAKI GROUP

From providing maintenance support for our automotive customers to framing an office, the Central Industrial team is built to succeed in rapidly changing environments often under expedited timelines.

Central Industrial is a proud member of Automation Alley, a World Economic Forum Advanced Manufacturing Hub (AMHUB), and a member of American Institute of Steel Construction (AISC).

Partnership & Communication

We are dedicated to establishing a partnership with our customers. We share the responsibility for the success of the overall project and know that effective communication is the key to that success, not only for the work at hand, but in relationships as well.

We provide fair cost implementation under expedited timelines and share the responsibilities between OEM, integration teams and the installation contractor.

Our management staff consists of safety conscious, team-oriented, highly qualified individuals who are motivated to help assess, coordinate, and provide innovative solutions for your tooling projects.
